Writing Applications Standard Students need to understand that various types of writing require different language, formatting, and special vocabulary. Writing serves many purposes across the curriculum and takes various forms. Beginning writers learn about the various purposes of writing; they attempt and use a small range of familiar forms (e.g., letters). Developing writers are able to select text forms to suit purpose and audience. They can explain why some text forms are more suited to a purpose than others and begin to use content-specific vocabulary to achieve their communication goals. Proficient writers control effectively the language and structural features of a large repertoire of text forms. They deliberately choose vocabulary to enhance text and structure their writing according to audience and purpose.
By the end of the 5-7 program:
A. Use narrative strategies (e.g., dialogue and action) to develop characters, plot, and setting and to maintain a consistent point of view.
B. Write responses to literature that extend beyond the summary and support judgments through references to the text.	SE: pp. 8-19, 20-32, 33-45, 46-59, 60-72, 73-83, 84-95 TG: pp. 7-8, 8-9, 9-10, 11-13, 13-14, 14-15, 15-16
C. Produce letters (e.g., business, letters to the editor, job applications) that address audience needs, stated purpose, and context in a clear and efficient manner.
D. Produce informational essays or reports that convey a clear and accurate perspective and support the main ideas with facts, details, examples, and explanations.	SE: pp. 33-45 TG: pp. 9-10
E. Use persuasive strategies, including establishing a clear position in support of a proposition or a proposal with organized and relevant evidence.

English-Language Arts Content Standards	Respond to Literature , Level F New Readers Press
Writing Conventions Standard Students learn to master writing conventions through exposure to good models and opportunities for practice. Writing conventions include spelling, punctuation, grammar, and other conventions associated with forms of written text. They learn the purpose of punctuation: to clarify sentence meaning and help readers know how writing might sound aloud. They develop and extend their understanding of the spelling system, using a range of strategies for spelling words correctly and using newly learned vocabulary in their writing. They grow more skillful at using the grammatical structures of English to effectively communicate ideas in writing and to express themselves.
By the end of the 5-7 program:
A. Use correct spelling conventions.
B. Use conventions of punctuation and capitalization in written work.
C. Use grammatical structures to effectively communicate ideas in writing.	SE: pp. 15, 68, 79 TG: p. 7
